

Hillary's E.T. Book

Written by Paul Robinson

Thursday, 21 January 2010 15:18 - Last Updated Thursday, 21 January 2010 16:54

In a recent, not to say deft, piece of investigation more proof has been found of Hillary Clinton's interest in extraterrestrial life. A photograph showing the back cover of a book being held by Hillary was noticed by researcher, Tonio Cousyn. After some leg work, Cousyn found the title of the book...

Are We Alone? Philosophical Implications of the Discovery of Extraterrestrial Life

The book was written by Professor Paul Davies , currently of Arizona State University. The Amazon write up of the book says...

The authentic discovery of extraterrestrial life would usher in a scientific revolution on par with Copernicus or Darwin, says Paul Davies. Just as these ideas sparked religious and philosophical controversy when they were first offered, so would proof of life arising away from Earth. With this brief book (160 pages, including two appendices and an index), Davies tries to get ahead of the curve and begin to sort out the metaphysical mess before it happens. Many science fiction writers have preceded him, of course, but here the matter is plainly put. This is a very good introduction to a compelling subject.

Here are the front and back covers to the book...

Hillary's E.T. Book

Written by Paul Robinson

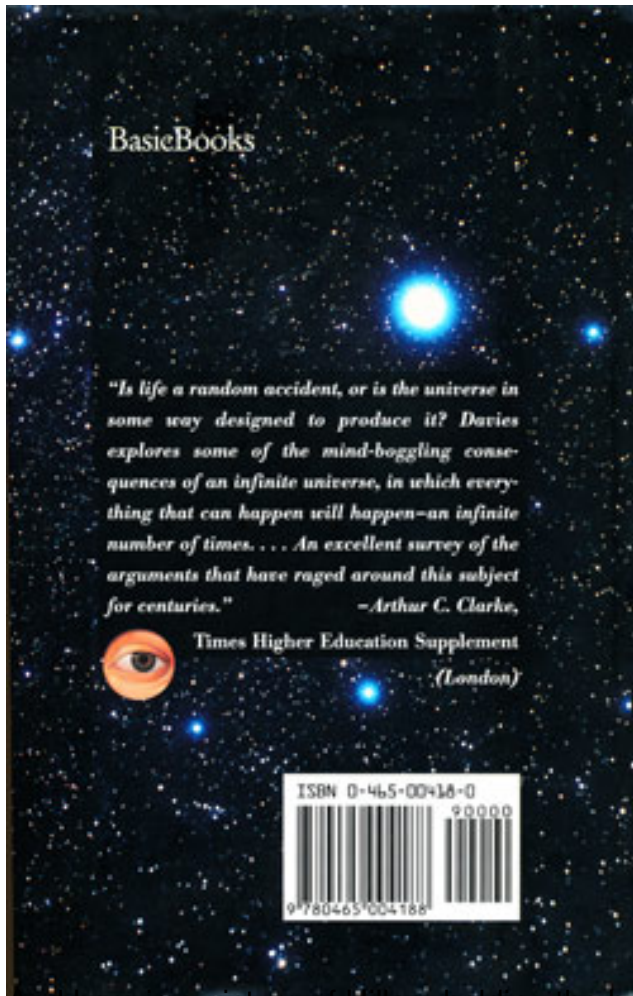

Thursday, 21 January 2010 15:18 - Last Updated Thursday, 21 January 2010 16:54

Hillary's E.T. Book

Written by Paul Robinson

Thursday, 21 January 2010 15:18 - Last Updated Thursday, 21 January 2010 16:54

And here is a picture of Hillary holding the book

The book cover, which is a photograph of the book, is shown in the image. The book cover features a starry night sky background with a large blue star and a smaller orange star. The text on the cover includes the title 'BasicBooks', a quote by Arthur C. Clarke, and the ISBN number 0-465-00416-0.